amazing opportunities to show people who the true Lamb of God is. Several New Testaments and gospel tracts were distributed.

Happy Passover! That is the common greeting you will hear in Israel during the Passover week. It is very hectic leading up to Passover and much time and energy is involved in getting all the Leaven (anything containing yeast) out of their homes as well as all the shopping for all the food that will be served during the meal. Of course, one cannot forget all the matzah that the entire family will be eating along with the bitter herbs. Yet one ingredient is missing from Exodus 12:8... that is the Lamb. In a modern Jewish Passover, lamb is not allowed to be eaten even though it is the main ingredient commanded in the Bible; that is exactly what is missing from in so many Jewish people's lives today, the Lamb of God! It is a joy to be able to introduce many Jewish people to the true Lamb of God, the Lord Jesus. Our time in Israel flew by. We had a small group of preachers come over in February and my what opportunity there was to give the gospel to so many. It was amazing watching the Holy Spirit give each person

During the last two weeks of our time in Israel, we had another small group come over for a tour. It started off well until I came down with a stomach virus. I have had it for about 9 days so far and I have not recovered from it completely yet. We have a very busy schedule now that we have landed. We landed on April 1 and then on April 4 we head out again, giving us just enough time to unpack and repack. We will be doing several Passover demonstrations as well as teaching/preaching on Jewish evangelism from Pennsylvania to Texas and back for the next two months. I am very thankful for the opportunity to help educate others about Jewish evangelism.

Thank you for your faithful prayers and support.
